New corrosion protection BIERI 700 bar Valves

New!

Zinc-Nickel silver

Until now

Nickel black chromated

Corrosion protection

Description of change

BIERI is constantly improving its products in terms of quality, performance and sustainability. In order to manufacture our valves in an even more environmentally friendly way, we are now dispensing with surface treatments containing chromium VI and instead use a zinc-nickel coating. In addition to the better environmental compatibility, our valves will be even better protected against external influences in the future.

Note that the new coating is colorless, so the valve bodies are silver instead of black.
